MONEY

CONSTELLATION

Money Constellations provide powerful insights into deep-seated money beliefs from the family system, transgenerational financial trauma and destructive mental processes. This makes the invisible visible which leads to greater understanding, openness and compassion towards yourself and others.

The Psychology of Money

We think we make decisions about money based on rational considerations and factual data. At home, at school, in society and from the media, we have been taught this way. In reality, people do not make decisions based on spreadsheets. Decisions are made at the family dinner table or in the boardroom based on personal experience, the unique blueprint, upbringing, personal wiring, ego, status, marketing and random external influences or validation.
